

Concerning Proceeding 17-108,

For the internet to remain a unregulated place, there must be net neutrality. Net neutrality enables fairness and equality between people with different ISPs. By removing Title II status on Internet Service Providers, the FCC would be allowing companies to profit by slowing internet speeds on competitor's products. By complaining I am showing that I do not think that this is acceptable, and it must be stopped. The internet must keep its net neutrality in order to remain free. We must stop the transfer of ISPs away from Title II to preserve net neutrality.
